

Ryan Herco Flow Solutions to offer Direct Export Service

April 16, 2008

We are pleased to announce that effective immediately, RHFS will offer direct export services under the direction of Export Business Manager, Michael Bowman.

For the past thirty years, James R. ("Jim") Whitman of J.R. Whitman Company has earned a sterling reputation serving many international customers as our exclusive export business partner. After many years of continued growth, Mr. Whitman has made the decision that a Ryan Herco Flow Solutions direct export sales team will better serve the needs of international customers.

Michael Bowman brings 25 years of experience with RHFS in a variety of capacities to lead our Export department. Mr. Whitman will remain actively involved in the development of our internal Export team assisting and assuring a smooth transition.

Our international customers have found these services of value to them:
